

500 NEW MEMBERS IS OBJECTIVE OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DRIVE

Present Organization Finds Need of Larger Membership to Represent Kingston in Competition With Other Cities—The Team Captains—Next Meeting Friday to Complete Plans for Campaign.

The first meeting of the team captains for the Chamber of Commerce Membership Expansion Drive to be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 12, 13 and 14, was held at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Broadway, when plans for the drive were discussed. There will be twelve teams of five or six members each and their captains will be:

C. A. Lasher, Arthur J. Burns, Mrs. Hattie B. Michael, Charles Ramsey, Max L. Reben, Dr. Daniel Connelly, Maurice S. Safford, Emil G. Boessneck, Edward E. Fessenden, Samuel H. Messinger, Matthew H. Herzog, Samuel M. Watts.

The Membership Expansion Drive will be conducted among those who are not now members of the Chamber of Commerce. The majority of present members, realizing fully the value of the Chamber in promoting the growth and best interests of Kingston, will continue their membership and remit promptly when they receive their bills for membership dues, but a larger membership is needed in order to carry on the work planned for Kingston, which is beginning to find itself in keen competition with every other city. The benefits of bigger membership are appreciated in other cities where Membership Expansion Drives have recently or now in progress show the extent to which residents realize that a larger Chamber membership is needed for civic growth.

Tickets for the free public dinner Monday evening at the Elks Club must be procured at the Chamber of Commerce office before noon of Saturday, June 9.

Luncheon meetings will be held each day of the drive at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Albany's recent Membership Expansion Drive resulted in an increase of 543 new members in three days. The Kingston Chamber's Membership Expansion Drive is expected to result in the addition of five hundred new members, besides the renewal of present memberships, which will give Kingston a working organization comparable to the most effective chamber in the state of New York which will be able to accomplish for the city of Kingston and county of Ulster better work with more far-reaching results than ever yet have been undertaken. Kingston's Chamber of Commerce believes that it must grow in membership if it is to keep pace with other cities of New York state and other states, and the team captains and members intend to see that the Membership Expansion Drive next week comes up fully to their plans and expectations. The general chairman of the Membership Expansion Drive Committee will be announced later.

On Friday evening at 6 o'clock the directors of the Chamber of Commerce will hold an important meeting and all team captains and members will meet on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

RHINEBECK BANK CLERK CONFESSES

The manner in which the First National Bank of Rhinebeck was mulcted of $24,000 was disclosed on Monday. Claude B. Lansing, 50 year old clerk, charged with grand larceny, confessed to taking the money. It was stated at a meeting of the bank directors. The directors said that the depositories were amply protected and that they would not press the charge of grand larceny. Deputy Sheriff Baum traced Lansing through a Miss Dunham, whom the clerk was engaged to marry shortly. Approaching Miss Dunham in this city Sunday night, the deputy sheriff introduced himself as a friend of Lansing. Miss Dunham was cordial at first but later became suspicious and eluded the deputy and sped across the Hudson in a motor boat to Rhinecliff. In Rhinebeck Lansing was taken into custody and at the county jail the clerk told the authorities he would be represented by John E. Mack.

DYKEMAN NEW SHRINE POTENTATE

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Washington, June 6.—Conrad V. Dykeman, of Kismet temple, Brooklyn, was elected imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, at the annual election here today. He succeeds "Sunnir Jim" McCandless of Aloha temple, Honolulu. The next Shriner's convention will be held at Kansas City.

Willie's Horn Is the Big Noise Among Five Hundred School Bands

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Chicago, June 6.—The tremors that shook the ground under your feet today were not earthquakes, as you perhaps imagined, but just the reverberations from the high school boys' band competing here in the tournament in which 500 schools are participating.

Near millionaires and chambermaids alike listened to the young musicians from the windows of the row of exclusive hotels on Michigan Boulevard. The waves in the lake, usually given to straggling in and plopping over in more or less confusion, swayed rhythmically and glided like so many fox trotters.

A glittering example is Willie Day of the Rockford, Illinois, High School Band. Willie is just big and strong enough to carry around the three freshmen on his nose. He could easily lam the sap out of a mosquito, provided the mosquito was not too robust and that trick holds were barred.

Willie has a smile that hangs like a hammock from the love of either car accepting when he is playing. Then he's very, very serious. Young Mr. Day plays the bass clarinet. It resembles a common clarinet not at all. It's nearly as large as his man-

NO CHANGE IN TAXI ORDINANCE

Tuesday evening at the regular monthly session of the common council the committee on taxi cab ordinance revision submitted two reports. The majority report was in favor of the present ordinance. A minority report was submitted by Aldermen Ryan and Joy that sections six and seven in the ordinance be amended. The majority report was adopted by a vote of 9 to 3 and the present ordinance continues in force without change.

INSPECT CITY'S ASPHALT PLANT

The common council has accepted the invitation of the board of public works to inspect the city's new asphalt plant on Gross street, and also the work that is being done in laying an asphalt pavement on Wall street. The aldermen will meet at the city hall Friday evening at 7 o'clock and the tour of inspection will start from there.

Charles Aid Meeting. The monthly meeting of the Ulster County Committee of the State Charities Aid Association will be held at the office of the county agency, 74 John street, Friday, June 8th, at 2:30 p.m.

Engines for Japan. The Canfield Supply Company has just received inquiries for three horsepower and five horsepower Hercules gasoline engines for shipment to Japan.

REPUBLICANS TO "GET THE GATE"

Session Over Smith Turns Attention to Democrats Who Claim for Few Jobs Left, Occupied by Republicans.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Albany, June 6.—The Legislature of 1923 is a thing of the past, the Democratic leaders and officials at the capital are turning their attention toward "cleaning" Republicans out of state departments.

The state officials, from Governor Smith down, have told their friends they believe that to the "victor belong the spoils." They are firmly convinced that every state job now being filled by a Republican, no matter how important, can be filled by a Democrat.

Report has it that from eight to twelve Republicans who have been in the state comptroller's office for years and who even served under previous Democratic administrations, are slated to "get the gate." There are a number of Republicans, however, who are protected by civil service and they are expected to remain. It is known that Governor Smith is a firm believer that the civil service laws should be observed.

There also is a report that a shakeup may be expected shortly in the State Department of Farms and Markets. If it had not been for the Republican Assembly, Governor Smith would have seen to it that this department was completely reorganized.

There are a number of Republicans in the State Tax Department who are wondering just how long they will be drawing a salary from the state. This also holds true in the Highway Department.

G. E. LIGHTNING MORE POWERFUL

2,000,000 Volts in Artificial Bolt That Plays Over Miniature Village for Benefit of Science.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Pittsfield, Mass., June 6.—Science today believes it holds the key to the mystery of the ages—lightning and its offspring, harnessed electricity.

Engineers of the General Electric Company's experimental laboratory here, produced the nearest thing to actual lightning ever created by man.

By the simple turn of a switch an artificial thunderbolt, with its resulting flashes of jagged lightning, rumbled and played over a miniature village, dancing from lightning rod to roof top on the tiny houses, then at will splitting asunder the wood block homes of imaginary dwellers.

Two million volts—twice the voltage ever before produced—sent the energy flashing out of the "key" of the laboratory. The experiment is said by electrical engineers to be their greatest step toward the study of methods for protection against lightning, in that it opens the way to students of electricity to solve the mystery of what lightning is, from which point it is only a step to the secret of the true nature of electricity itself.

The experiment was made in connection with the company's study of its greatest cable line—the new 220,000 volt commercial cable transmission line recently installed in California. The tests in this respect proved successful.

BRICKMAKERS STRIKE IS OVER WORKING CONDITIONS

Andrew Galletta and Salvatore Mauro, two of the striking brickyard employees at the Washburn Brothers' brickyard, have asked The Freeman to state that the men are not striking for higher wages but for different working conditions. The strikers say they want the same working conditions which prevail at the other yards in Glasco.

A union has been formed in Glasco by the brickmakers which is a branch of the International Longshoremen's Union. The striking brickmakers have interviewed the Washburn Brothers' Company several times but no headway has been made toward a settlement of the strike. The strikers say they will not return to work until they get the conditions for which they are striking.

CHURCH WOMEN INVITED TO MISSION CONFERENCE

The Missionary Society of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church cordially invites the women of the other churches of the city to meet with them at their meeting on Friday at the church. There will be morning and afternoon sessions. The principal address will be given at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by Mrs. Ruth Howard of Porto Rico. Mrs. Cabberry will play.

Lightning Hit Women. During the height of the electrical storm on Monday afternoon, a bolt of lightning struck the residence of John Krom on Elm street, Sagartown. The bolt entered through the side of the house and after tearing away some of the plaster from the wall made its exit under the door. No one followed the bolt.

HEAT WAVE LIES OVER ENTIRE EAST

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, June 6.—The heat sweltered today under the torrid heat of a heat wave that extended from Richmond, Va., to Portland, Me.

At noon the thermometer in New York city registered 83 degrees only five notches under the highest temperature of the year, but the mercury was still rising.

A strong breeze and cloudiness somewhat reduced the intensity of the heat.

Thunder storms were forecast for this afternoon.

MORANO IGNORES SENTENCE; JAILED

Charles P. Morano of Mariborough was indicted by an Ulster county grand jury on October 26, 1922, for violation of the Mulligan law in having a number of barrels of grape wine in his possession, which was seized some time before. He gave bail in $1,000 and on April 18, 1923, was convicted on his plea of guilty in county court and sentenced to pay $200 as a fine, in default of payment to be imprisoned in the Ulster county jail for not exceeding 100 days. The court extended the time for payment of the $200 until the 15th of May and as Morano had failed to pay the fine, or to surrender himself in execution of the judgment of the court, Sheriff William H. Kolts was commanded by District Attorney Traver to arrest Morano in compliance with the order. Morano was placed under arrest Tuesday afternoon and locked in the jail.

JEALOUS BOARDER SHOTS HUSBAND AND WIFE

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Amsterdam, N. Y., June 6.—Jealousy snuffed out two lives here early today. Mrs. Fanny Wisegrad, 40, was shot and killed by Pathy De Joy, a boarder in her home, who then killed himself. Just before De Joy turned the gun on himself, he shot and perhaps fatally injured John Wisegrad, the woman's husband. Police say the shooting took place shortly after Wisegrad returned home unexpectedly.

SOLENN TRIDUUM AT ST. MARY'S THIS WEEK

A solemn triduum will be held at St. Mary's Church beginning this evening and continuing until Friday evening which is the feast of the Sacred Heart. A Redemptorist father will preach each evening. Confessions will be heard Thursday afternoon and evening and there will be a solemn closing Friday evening at which there will be reception of the new promoters of the league.

Colonel Among Dead.

Arabs Chase Turks.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Bagdad, June 6.—A column of Arab troops was dispatched today to the Row Anduse district of the Kingdom of Irak, to expel the Turks. The Turkish forces fled without offering any resistance.

Fire Devastates Port.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Constantinople, June 6.—Fire nearly destroyed the Black Sea port of Chile today.

ORPHEUM BUILDING PLANS POSTPONED

Scarcity of Labor Causes Proposed Improvements to be Put Over to More Favorable Time.

The contemplated improvements to the Orpheum theater will not be carried out this year due to the high cost of all building materials. Although the plans were all drawn up by a New York architect after the management of the theater obtained an estimate of the cost they found that by building this year with the high cost of labor and material it would amount to $30,000 more than they expected. Then, too, with the scarcity of labor it would mean that it would take at least six months to complete the work. A few minor improvements will be made before the theater opens in August.

The owners hope to carry out their plans next year, however, if conditions warrant.

FRANCO-BELGIAN CONFERENCE OPEN

Receives Germany's Offer of $1,500,000,000 Gold Marks Yearly—Better Methods of Putting on the Screws Under Discussion.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Brussels, June 6.—Germany's new reparations note for $1,500,000,000 gold marks annually was received here today just as the Franco-Belgian conference opened. Premier Poincare arrived from Paris early in the afternoon. He was accompanied by Minister of Finance Delastrie, General Degoutte, commander-in-chief of the French army of occupation in Germany, M. Tirard, French high commissioner in the Rhineland, Minister of Public Works Le Trocquer and a few others.

Immediately after his arrival Poincare proceeded to the Belgian foreign office where he met Premier Theunis and foreign Minister Jaspar. From Belgian official sources it was learned that the discussions would include the following:

First—Ruhr administration; book-keeping and ways of forcing miners to return to work to replenish the diminishing coal stocks.

Second—Belgian reparations plan; proposal for international consortium to exploit German railways for six years, paying the interest on reparations commission 1, 300,000,000 gold marks yearly.

Third—Suggestion that international companies exploit German tobacco, alcohol, sugar and match monopolies, reparations commission to take a quarter share in German corporations.

Fourth—Germany's latest reparations proposals.

Fifth—Belgium will attempt to persuade France to send minimum reparations demands to Rome and London, proposing an international conference with England and Italy to study the German note.

Sixth—Advisability of sending a united allied reply instead of separate answers to Germany.

It is understood that Premier Poincare will insist that Belgium oppose England's demand for a League of Nations investigation of French administration in the Sarre basin.

CONDUCTOR JOHN H. DAWE HEADS TROLLEY UNION

Conductor John H. Dawe of the Kingston City division of the trolley road has been elected president of the local trolleyman's union. The other officers elected were: Financial secretary and treasurer, John J. Feeney, recording secretary, Edward P. McDonough, corresponding secretary, Peter A. Carey.

THRILLING MAN HUNT AFTER TWO ESCAPED CONVICTS IN MARBLETOWN

Two Prisoners Escape From Napanoch Reformatory at Midnight and Start Toward Kingston—Kingston Police Chase Them Through Woods in Marblertown and Hurley Without Success.

ONE OF CONVICTS WAS CAPTURED

Found Lying Under Tree in Woods by State Troopers Roche and Ross of East Kingston Who Returned Prisoner to Napanoch Reformatory.

About 1:20 o'clock this afternoon as State Troopers Roche and Ross of East Kingston, were beating the woods in Lomontville back of Judge John G. Van Etten's farm they ran across John Collins, one of the escaped convicts they were seeking, lying under a tree.

As the troopers approached, Collins got to his feet and thrust his hands in his pockets saying "Aw, go ahead and shoot."

The officers walking up to Collins, placed him under arrest. When searched it was found that he had no gun on his person.

Collins was later returned to Napanoch. He was serving a sentence of twenty years at Napanoch on a charge of burglary committed in Ulster. Grecco is still being searched for.

STORE FIGHT IN COUNTY COURT

William D. Roosa Sues Dr. Oliver For Damages Sustained—Each Claims Other Started Rampage.

County court convened this morning at 10 o'clock and at that time the criminal calendar was called. With the exception of those who will enter pleas of guilty no criminal cases will be disposed of at this time on account of the inability to secure jurors to serve without unnecessary inconvenience. At this season of the year it is practically impossible for farmers to serve. A day will be designated at which time several pleas of guilty will be accepted and disposed of.

An action for assault was taken up for trial. Andrew J. Cook appears for William B. Roosa of the town of Marbletown who brings an action against Dr. James Oliver of High Falls for an alleged assault which took place at Sahler's store in Stone Ridge. According to the plaintiff's story he was assaulted without reason and according to defendant he was attacked by plaintiff and defended himself.

Plaintiff claims that on the night of March 30, 1920, he was in the store talking with others when Dr. Oliver came in to make some purchases. He asked the doctor about a relative who had been employed in Poughkeepsie, and claims that the doctor told him he was through with the relative and that Mr. Roosa knew as much about the relative as the doctor did. Plaintiff claims that the doctor told him he had washed his hands of his relative.

Then, according to plaintiff, he quoted a passage from the Bible in regard to honoring his parents, etc., which he claims aroused Dr. Oliver's anger to such an extent that the doctor said there must be some Van Leuven blood in Mr. Roosa and indicated that it should be knocked out of him. Plaintiff claims further that without further delay the doctor attacked him and beat him up, giving him two black eyes and injuring him to such an extent that he was laid up for a long time and was unable to sleep in bed for a week, that he suffered from the injuries for from seven weeks to two months and that in addition to his injuries he was humiliated in the eyes of his neighbors. He seeks to recover for the alleged assault.

Dr. Oliver on the other hand claims that when he entered the store Mr. Roosa began to make abusive remarks and that he disregarded them and walked back to the rear of the store and thought the affair was over but that when he returned to the vicinity of Mr. Roosa the remarks were renewed and Mr. Roosa applied various remarks such as calling him "a dirty cheat," and that Mr. Roosa advanced toward the doctor in a threatening manner and in order to protect himself he was compelled to put up a fight in his own defense. Defendant claims that a fight which was started by Mr. Roosa followed in which they both rolled around over the floor but that no one was very seriously injured. He claims the aggressor was Mr. Roosa.

A jury was taken in the case and after opening the case court went into recess until this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Quicker In Perils. By Telegraph to The Freeman. Allahabad, India, June 6.—A recurrence of earthquake shocks was reported today from the Tabatthal district of Persia but there were no casualties.

A thrilling man hunt was in progress today through the woods of Hurley, Marblertown and Lomontville in which officers of the Kingston police department, a posse from the sheriff's office and state troopers engaged in. The quarry were John Collins, who has a deformed hand, and Peter Grecco, two young men who escaped from Napanoch reformatory about midnight. Although the quarry had been seen several times up to early this afternoon they have eluded capture.

Early this morning police headquarters received word that the two convicts had escaped, and were headed toward Kingston, together with a description of the men who wore duck trousers.

About 9 o'clock the driver of the Kingston-Elleville stage notified police headquarters that he had passed the two men walking along the state road in Marblertown toward this city. Sergeant Phinney immediately assigned Officers Sime Wood, Peter Keresman and John Harnen to the job, and they drove out the state road seeking the escaped prisoners.

Convicts Spotted Men in Blue. About four miles outside of Kingston as the police car, driven by Sime Wood, was bowling along at a fast rate a truck was seen approaching. As the two machines drew closer together two men suddenly leaped out of the truck and fled across the fields into the woods.

Sime Wood immediately stopped the police car and Officers Keresman and Harnen jumped out and gave chase, but lost the men after they had gone about a mile over hill and dale.

Fired Shots; Fled Faster. Officer Keresman in an effort to halt the convicts fired twice in the air, but instead of stopping the fleeing pair put on an extra spurt of speed and disappeared over a rise into an O. & W. Railroad cut.

Fled Through Swamp. By the time the pursuing policemen reached the railroad cut they caught a glimpse of one man making his way through the swamp. The other man was not in sight. The one man was in plain sight and the officers plunged into the swamp after him, but he eluded capture.

In the meantime the other convict had remained hidden in the deep woods and seeing the way clear set off at a dog trot in an opposite direction, but was seen by a resident of that locality, who gave the alarm.

Seek More Help.

It was seen that the convicts had separated and it was thought that they were heading toward the Lucas avenue turnpike and the police car was rushed back to this city where reinforcements were assigned to the hunt.

Leaps Out of Tree.

Returning with Sergeant Phinney and Edward Luedtke, superintendent of the city hall, the police car drove to the outskirts of the woods and the party separated and began to beat through the woods at a distance of several hundred feet apart. Luedtke, who was armed only with a night stick, was startled when a man suddenly dropped out of a tree a few feet away from him and plunged through the woods in the opposite direction. Luedtke gave the alarm, and set out after the convict.

Officer Keresman, who was nearest to Luedtke, was unable to see him owing to the dense underbrush but hearing the alarm fired his gun in the air to attract the other hunters and set off in the direction of the alarm.

Keresman Strained Leg. As Officer Keresman plunged up a steep incline after the convict he sprained his leg so badly that it put him out of the chase. Later he was brought to the city hall and went to the office of Dr. Koefe, police surgeon to have the injury examined. It is thought he had strained a tendon in his leg causing him to walk very lame.

More Officers Sent. By this time Sheriff Kolts had a posse in the field and state troopers had been notified. Chief of Police Wood also sent out Officers Keresman and Soper to assist in the hunt.

Seen at Lomontville. At 1 o'clock this afternoon Chief Wood stated that the two convicts had rejoined each other and had just been seen in the vicinity of the farm of Judge John G. Van Etten on the mountain road at Lomontville. Back of the judge's farm the hills rise steeply and are covered with heavy underbrush. It is expected that it will be a difficult job to locate the convicts in the Lomontville woods, but the authorities had not given up hope of landing their men.

FIREWORKS HERE FOURTH OF JULY

After a Verbal Display in Common Council Chamber Tuesday the Aldermen Voted to Set off $800 Worth of Fireworks Each of High School.

The city's annual display of fireworks the evening of the Fourth of July will be held this year back of the high school, and Aldermen Macholdt, Buchholz, Cashman, Martin and Mann were appointed a committee to have charge of securing $300 worth of fireworks and arranging for the display.

This action was taken Tuesday evening by the common council after a verbal display of fireworks that lasted half an hour. The first fireworks was set off shortly after 8 o'clock that evening when Alderman Macholdt introduced a resolution that the fireworks display this year be held back of the high school, which was seconded by Alderman Belcher.

Alderman Martin amended the resolution to read that the $300 be divided and $150 worth be set off at Forsyth Park and $150 worth at Hasbrouck Park as in other years. He said that the majority of the residents of the city were satisfied with the present arrangement of holding the display and that there had never been an accident at either place. Alderman Williams seconded the amendment.

Before the amendment was voted on Alderman Cashman took a hand in the discussion and urged his brother aldermen "to be sports and not try to hog it all. Give us fellows in the central section a chance," he urged. Alderman Macholdt also urged that this resolution be adopted.

The vote on the Martin amendment was lost 7 to 6. Owing to the fact that Alderman Van Wageningen of the First ward was unable to be present at the meeting it was necessary for President Dittus to vote to break the tie. He voted against the Martin amendment which was lost.

Those who voted in favor of holding the fireworks display at either end of the city were Aldermen Williams, Keating, Joy, Mann, Everett, and Martin.

Those against were Aldermen Dittus, Belcher, Cashman, Kullmann, Macholdt, Buchholz, and Ryan.

The Macholdt resolution to have the display back of the high school was then adopted by the same vote. Other matters taken up will be found elsewhere.

WHO IS APPLYING FOR ATLANTIC LEAGUE FRANCHISE?

The Albany Knickerbocker Press printed an article Tuesday which stated that certain parties from this city along with parties from Poughkeepsie and Asbury Park have made application for a franchise in the Atlantic League. As no names are mentioned it is not known who these parties are.

Manager Lou Brown, of the Colonials, stated Tuesday that he had not heard of any people in this city making any such application and gave as his opinion that officers of the league are merely sending out such notices to see what the reaction will be in these three places. It is not known how Poughkeepsie could support a league team as at the present time there is no enclosed diamond in that city and the one which is now under the process of construction will not be completed until the middle of August at the earliest.

Is he a
"Tire Dealer"—
OR
Does he sell
Silvertowns?

Motorists themselves draw that distinction. In every community some men are "in the tire business," while others are recognized as the Goodrich Silvertown Cord Tire dealers. The name of Silvertown symbolizes a merchant who is alive, far-sighted, prepared to serve his customers in the best way.

To these merchants Silvertowns signify the greatest value possible in tires. They have selected them as their leader because they know the advantage of the Goodrich principle of one quality, one grade and one name.

Your Goodrich dealer has back of him the entire Goodrich organization. With full stocks in all sizes of Silvertowns he is ready to take care of your tire needs immediately.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 6, 1923.

SIGNS FOR GOOD OLD TIMES.

Contemporary manners and morals, especially of the younger generation, fill Lieut. Governor Bingham of Connecticut with alarm. He thinks his State is in danger, and in marking the seeming efforts of revolting youth to revert to "primitive savagery," he pessimistically declares: "If they succeed in breaking down New England's standards of decency, modesty and morality, then they will bring our proud nation down to the level of those tribes where fair play does not exist, where every man's hands are against his neighbor and where might makes right." Ex-Governor Bingham's sighs for the good old times that are gone are not taken very seriously by the New York Times, which unfeelingly observes:

New England was rum-soaked up to 1830. The amount of wine and punch and toddy consumed by college professors and presidents is astounding to the weaker heads of today. Farm hands got a gallon of rum or whisky a month. About 1838, according to the late Charles Francis Adams, "a distinguished Massachusetts divine gave as his reason for joining in the temperance movement that among his brethren in the ministry he knew forty-four who drank so much as to affect their brains, and he had assisted putting four to bed on occasions like ordinations." Church and court records show that in other vices our sainted New England forefathers kept up their own end fairly well. "Bundling" wasn't peculiar to New England, but its history shows that there were some queer, unedifying "New England standards of decency, modesty and morality."

Strange that the Times did not include in its enumerations the millions New Englanders made by transporting negroes from Africa and selling them in the United States. Unquestionably the younger generation can resort under attack that, after all, it is not so much worse than its forefathers were.

TWO AXES HERESY.

Chief Two Axes of the Onondaga tribe, has shocked the country by standing up for an old and almost forgotten heresy. He holds not only that an Indian should mind his own business but that a white man should mind his. In his exasperation and rebellion Two Axes—as quoted—even goes so far as to say with no slight show of temper: "We don't want your schools and your hospitals. We don't want you butting into our affairs at all. We claim an inalienable right to mind our own business and to be left alone to do it."

Of course Two Axes is "catching it" on all sides. Some of those who were at first stunned by such impudence and heresy later became so vocal that they did not leave Two Axes one leg to stand on. And yet he might have gone on and said, with truth, that in former times palefaces as well as redskins claimed the right to be let alone to mind their own business. He would have had to admit, however, that among American white folks individual freedom has become an outworn doctrine. Apparently the most respected citizen now is he who minds his neighbor's business more than his own. It would appear that the only true American patriot in these times is he who is eager to oversee and censor everything that his neighbor may believe, read, eat, drink or do, loudly calling on the government—Federal branch preferred—to aid and support him in this labor of love. Two Axes is behind the times, as he will find to his cost.

The immigration restriction policy has caused 400 Pueblo Indians to be employed by the Santa Fe railroad and they are said to be "entirely satisfactory."

Egypt's first election campaign has brought out 4,000 candidates for 400 offices. Perhaps the Egyptians have hearkened to the romantic tale that any American can be president.

Young couples ambitious to have a little home of their own will find it hard to keep on hoping as they read that bricklayers on strike in New York, who have been offered $10 a day and a bonus and are sticking for $12 a day, have admittedly been laying 40 per cent fewer bricks per man per day than before the war. Then there are the plasterers who want $20 a day and the right to work leisurely. Getting a home in these times is a knotty problem for the majority of young men.

Trotzky is reported to have sent $125,000 to his brother in Berlin. This looks like a forehanded provision for a rainy day and may even be an indication that the Bolshevik despotism is at last tottering to its fall.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Why do they feed live animals to snakes in zoos? I think it is cruel and disgusting.

2. Is there any horned bird?

3. What difference is there between a weasel and an ermine?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. Do tortoise shell turtles get new shells after the old one is taken off?

No, though ignorant turtle fishers used to believe they did; and as in Ceylon the cruel method securing this turtle's horny "shell" was by holding the live creature over fire until the shell could be pried off, the natives used to put the still-living turtle back in the sea, hoping it would grow a new coat. In the Philippines the method is to kill the turtle and soften the shell by soaking in boiling water.

2. What is soil made of?

Partly of powdered rock, mixed with decayed animal or vegetable matter, plus a certain amount of cosmic dust which reaches us through the atmosphere, from meteors. Rock is separated into particles somewhat by action of water freezing and expanding in its crevices; partly by rain which wears it off and dissolves it; and largely by glaciers which grind it. Lichens and mosses also slowly help eat off the surface of rock and combine it with themselves to make soil.

3. Please give some birds where both mates incubate eggs.

The black-capped chickadee helps excavate the nest and broods in alternation with the female; ostriches share incubating duties, so do pigeons. The rose-breasted grosbeak occasionally broods while the female is resting and feeding, and the murres alternate shifts of day and night brooding, making the exchange when one partner leaves and the other comes on duty, with much screaming.

NO USE FOR AGED

In New Guinea Old People Are
Summarily Dispatched.Community Refuses to Allow Them to Become a Burden and They Are Put Away With Expedition.

Tribal law and custom in New Guinea and the Bismarck archipelago, particularly in the matter of killing, is constantly coming into conflict with the white man's law and offers one of the most difficult problems that the white administrator is faced with. The general attitude of Melanesians in regard to old people is a case in point. As old people approach decrepitude, they become a burden upon the village and every opportunity is taken to get rid of them. In some of the islands further south of Australia, a general day is appointed for their ceremonial burial. Whether they happen to be dead or not makes no difference. Sometimes the old people actually march off to their own funerals, accepting their fate as the inevitable conclusion of old age; they even consider that it is the duty of affectionate children to honor them by thus putting a dramatic end to their lives, after they have passed the period of their usefulness. They are placed in a grave with tremendous ceremony, the whole village taking part, and the earth is firmly stamped down over them, to the beating of many drums. In the Bismarck archipelago, old people are occasionally taken into the bush, shut up in some isolated hut with a small supply of food and thus abandoned to slow death by starvation.

A peculiar case once presented itself for settlement on the west coast of New Ireland. A boy of nine was brought in for trial, accused of the murder of his grandmother. He had been taken aside, so he said, by a party of the elders of his village, who said:

"What you are growing up now to be a big fellow! It is certainly shameful that you should be a drain on the food stock of the village. We have altogether too many people dependent on us. There are yourself and a great many other boys like you, and then there is that grandmother of yours. She does nothing but eat and eat, and it has finally come down to this: We have not enough food for all you people who loaf on the community. If your grandmother was dead, we might be able to find enough food for you."

Pointing her out where she lay, a withered old crow, asleep on the ground a hundred yards away, they handed the ax to the boy and told him that if he struck just where the front bone on her neck stuck out, and struck hard enough, she would instantly be killed. Terrified by the ordeal he had just been subjected to, dragged away from his playmates and confronted with the sinister and lowering elders, he took the ax, rushed over to the old woman and killed her as he had been instructed, with one blow. He was then promptly handed over to the police by the chiefs, who seized on the occasion thus to rid themselves of two drains on their food supply.—From On Crime and Punishment in New Guinea, by R. W. Cilento, in Asia Magazine.

Bees Never Sting Some People.
Jack Beater asks this question in Adventure Magazine. He says:

"I never had much fear of bees even as a kid. One Fourth of July when I was about fourteen, I experimented with several bee hives and some cannon crackers. The operation is simple. Slip up to the hive and insert the cannon crackers in the main entrance, light, and run like —. Only I forgot to run. Well, the bees came out of the hive all right and, I believe, they stung every one within a half-mile but me. Why?"

"Another time I was raking a hayfield with a two-horse rake, one of those wide affairs. The rake raked up a nice sized nest of ground bees. The field was fenced and the gate was barely wide enough for a team to pass through. The team passed through all right, but the hayrake and I didn't. No sir, we stopped real sudden like. The horses were a mass of bees and I was very well covered myself. There were bees on my neck so thick I had to claw them off. But not one stung me. Why?"

Limit of Dissatisfaction.

The troops had been marching through a sea of mud for hours when at last they were lined up for inspection before a general.

In the evolution a young cavalryman who had recently enlisted was thrown from his horse into the mire, from which he emerged in a dreadful state, though uninjured except in his feelings.

The general himself, who had witnessed the incident, rode up, and, preserving his gravity with some effort, inquired of the trooper if he had suffered any hurt from the fall.

"No," was the disgusted reply. "But if I ever love a country again, you can kick me!"

Russian Military Service.

Compulsory military service is in force in Russia, where all male citizens are liable to service between the ages of twenty and forty. Conscripts must spend a year and a half in the infantry, and two and a half years in the cavalry, artillery and technical forces, three and a half years in the air fleet and four and a half years in the sea fleet.

Score One for Mrs. Grouch.

"It says here that unmarried men in Korea always are treated as boys, no matter how old they are," grumbled Mr. Grouch. "Huh!" retorted his wife, "and over here we have to treat the married ones like babies, no matter how old they are."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BROWN AND GREEN

MUST HAVE FINE "FEATHERS"

Modern Girls of Every Degree of Life United in Their Demand for Silks and Furs.

"The modern young man," said a young woman who prides herself on understanding men "likes to have his wife or fiancée dressed like a million dollars. The married or engaged girl, therefore, must spend more money and attention on her clothes than the girl who is free from such attachments."

Now, what do you think about it? To be sure it is a common falling of us all to like to be seen with well-dressed people. The married man likes his wife to look well dressed because she is pleasanter to his own eyes when she is well dressed. It may be also that he feels that his own financial standing will be rated according to the richness with which his wife is dressed.

But really people are not so easily taken in as that. A casual observer may be taken in for a while. But if you have married on a clerk's salary and your wife wears sealskin, people are more apt to think, "How they must skip and save to buy such clothes!"

You are amused when you see the woman who comes to clean and wash wear silk stockings and a fur coat. It is just as amusing to the man higher up to see you or yours dressed in a way not warranted by your income. After all it is a bourgeois trick in the best of us—to ape the modes and manners of millionaires. The fact is we may not especially admire the millionaires at all. Your real hero may be some great scientist or public benefactor, a surgeon, perhaps, who spends his life and fortune to relieve the sufferings of others. Or you may almost worship at the pedestal of some brilliant man of letters, a poet, a musician or an artist. Your ideal of human perfection may be some great souled preacher who has influenced your life past your own understanding.

And yet a man will make sacrifices to dress his wife like the wife of the ward boss who has made his money in graft, or the millionaire who has devoted all his intellect to building up a great sausage factory.

Now the fact really is that it is always bourgeois to try to be seen abroad in dress of those who are much richer than you. After the French revolution, when rich shopkeepers aped the manners of the aristocracy, philosophers laughed in their sleeves at them. Someone may be laughing at you now.

Mr. & Mrs. Conrad Kissel.

Mrs. Mary O'Connell Kissel, 24, a bride of a few hours, collapsed while responding to a toast proposed by a guest at the wedding feast in New York. Her husband, Conrad Kissel, also collapsed when he strove to lift her from the floor. One by one the guests began to writhe in pain, and they, too, fell to the floor. Physicians attended the bride and groom and thirty-two of their guests and said that tainted chicken salad had poisoned them. All subsequently recovered.

John T. Adams

Chairman John T. Adams, of the Republican National Committee, has called upon Cortell G. Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, to "set forth accurately and positively" his organization's position on the League of Nations question. He has asked whether the party's views on the matter are those of Woodrow Wilson or of Senator James Reed, of Missouri. Adams recently took issue with President Harding and other Republican leaders on the World Court problem and the storm of discussion, pro and con, has apparently caused a serious split in Republican ranks.

Pitcher Plants.

The pitcher plants are for the most part found in bogs. The leaves of all of these, while varying in details of structure, are pitcherlike in shape and modified for the purpose of alluring, catching and digesting crawling or flying insects and a few other animals.

Insects, spiders, and the like, are attracted to these plants partly by the brilliant colors of their pitchers and partly by the nectar drops exuded by the honey glands. They move to the lid where the secretion along the outer margin is abundant. From here they step upon the inner surface of the lid and slip the honey on the conducting surface. Upon reaching this surface they waver and slip off and fall into the water detentive region. They find exit impossible on account of the downward projecting hairs. They drown in the water and their bodies are digested by a juice secreted by the glands lining the lower portion of the pitcher cavity.

Running insects such as cockroaches and ants are the principal prey of pitcher plants, but flies and wasps are also caught. A drowned rat was found in one specimen of Nepenthes.—Exchange.

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE HOSPITAL PETS

You have heard perhaps of the two rabbits who were sent to join another hospital pet.

"Not for Me."

Now the hospital was in a city, but there was a yard attached to the hospital and there a big yard was made for the rabbits. A little house was made for them, too.

The yard had a wire fence about it and there were constantly good things to eat about, for the matron of the hospital loved these hospital pets. There was always plenty of cabbage and lettuce and they were very happy.

The children were out upon the hospital veranda, some in coats, others who could walk about were allowed to go down to the yard in which were the rabbits. And the others watched the rabbits from the veranda.

The rabbits had been given excellent and they had made nice beds for themselves. But the most wonderful thing of all was that though these rabbits had never been out of doors before in their lives, and though they had never been with other rabbits who had been able to show them in any way what they would do if they were out of doors, still these rabbits at once began to dig.

No one had ever told them anything about burrowing holes in the ground; no one had ever told them or shown them any of the things they should do as soon as they were out of doors. But right away they began making back entrances to their house, digging in the hard city earth.

It was the instinct which had come down to them through generations and generations of rabbits who had done this, and as soon as they were out of doors they too followed the family ways.

One day someone came to the hospital and brought chocolate bunnies for the children, and the faces of the children were covered with chocolate. But one little girl showed the rabbits a chocolate bunny and the rabbit wiggled his little nose and took a bite of cabbage as though to say: "Chocolate? Not for me! I'll stick to the good old cabbage."

In the hospital one little boy was quite sick. He felt wretched and his pet was a pussy cat. The cat was allowed to have the other bed in a room off the big ward where the boy's bed had been put.

When the little boy would speak to him he would purr, but he would hardly eat anything and he would not go off and play and he would not leave while the little boy was so sick.

It was not until the little boy was better that the cat began to take an interest in his food again, for the little boy was his special friend and a devoted cat could not bear to have his special friend sick. It took away a devoted cat's appetite.

Tramp, the hospital dog, was around everywhere, friendly and good-natured as he could be. There was nothing snobbish about Tramp. He had always been without foolish pride.

Of course he came of plain, every-day dog parents, but still he had heard of creatures who put on airs when they had no right to do so. In fact, it was Tramp's opinion that no one could put on airs and amount to much. It took up all one's time putting on airs so that there was no time left over in which to amount to something and in which to be friendly and sensible.

Oh, yes, the hospital had its pets. But perhaps the greatest pets of all were the rabbits. Still—different children had their different favorites just as the animals had their different favorites.

But at any rate it was wonderful to have pets around when one was sick. Pets were so cheering and made one forget about many an ache and many a pain.

History.

"History is bunk" as history is written. We shall have no real history until humanity becomes sufficiently self-conscious to use the way by which it arrived at its present status. History is thus racial autobiography and like all autobiography it depends on the attainment of an objective consciousness of self.—Dearborn Independent.

A FEW CREAM SOUPS

A half cupful of good cream soup is a nourishing beginning for a meal.

Cream of Mushroom Soup.—Mash and peel one quart of mushrooms and cook until tender in very little water, then rub through a sieve. Make a cream sauce, using two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour, adding the flour when the butter is bubbling hot; season with salt and pepper, add a quart of milk, the mushroom puree and serve piping hot.

Cream of Celery Soup.—Take one head of celery, three cupfuls of milk, one cupful of whipped cream, three tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour, salt and pepper to taste. Chop the celery very fine and put it into a double boiler with two cupfuls of the milk, and cook for twenty minutes. Strain, return to the boiler and add a cream sauce, using the flour, butter and one cupful of milk. Add seasonings and stir in the cupful of whipped cream just at the last.

Salmon, Cream Soup.—Take one-half can of salmon, one quart of milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, pepper and salt to taste. Drain the oil from the can of salmon, put the fish with a cupful of milk on the stove and let it cook for a few minutes, then rub through a sieve. Make a sauce of the remainder of the milk and the butter and flour, add the salmon puree, stir until smooth, thoroughly cooking the flour. Serve with hot crackers.

Cream of Chicken and Cauliflower.—To two quarts of chicken broth add one cupful of boiled rice and one cupful of boiled cauliflower which has been put through a potato ricer. Season well. Make a cream sauce, using two tablespoonfuls of butter and flour, adding a pint of rich milk; cook until smooth, then add to the first mixture. Serve with a few flowerettes of the cauliflower for a garnish.

OLD GRANARY BURYING GROUND

Within the confines of the older (eastern) states of this Union there are many ancient, quaint and hallowed burying grounds, most of which closely surround or adjoin a much-loved chapel or meeting house. Among the most interesting of these is that precious plot of ground known as Old Granary Burying Ground, near the present business center in the city of Boston.

The town granary once stood on this site—hence this peculiar name. The burying ground was established about the year 1640.

Within this well-kept enclosure which is surrounded by an imposing protective fence, lie the remains of three signers of the Declaration of Independence, nine governors, Peter Faneuil, that public-spirited individual who presented the city the famous hall which bears his name; Paul Revere, that patriot who, on April 18, 1775, warned his country of the marching of the British troops towards Lexington and Concord, and other notables of their time.

Probably the most conspicuous headstone that graces the shaded covering of the departed is that erected by Benjamin Franklin, the most important literary man of his day, in loving tribute to the memory of his father, Josiah, and his mother, Abiah.

An outstanding feature of the plot are a number of almost-a-century-old elm trees which cast their shadows over this resting place.

The epitaphs on many of the stones which mark these ancient graves are quaint, indeed, and peculiar in the light of present-day custom. An unusual one reads:

Here lyeth ye body of John Downing, aged about 35 yrs., dec'd April 15, 1664.

I bargain with Christ for room below. He grants a mansion in his upper store; Thus God gives more than we do ask or know. Instead of grace uninterrupted gloria.

Another:

Here lies interred the body of Mr. Thomas Crawford, who departed this life, Aug. 24, 1778. Aged 65.

Stop here my friend and cast an eye. As you are now, so once was I; As I am now, so you must be. Prepare for death and follow me.

MRS. WHALEY WINS DECREE FROM HUSBAND FRIDAY

The Poughkeepsie Star says: Harriet N. Whaley of Kingston, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce Saturday from Howard E. Whaley, by Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser, the acts on which the action was based being alleged to have taken place at 33 Lafayette street, Kingston, the name of the woman being unknown.

Whaley at the time of the alleged acts was the foreman of the Herbert brush factory at Kingston, but he has since removed from that city. He has been sending his wife $50 a month since leaving Kingston with which to support herself and two children. He stated in an affidavit expected to continue to pay her this sum but Justice Morschauser refused to allow so small a sum for the support of the family and fixed the alimony at $20 a week.

John Loper and J. C. Smiley, of Schenectady, friends of Mrs. Whaley's older son, were the witnesses who had been brought to get the evidence against Whaley. They stated they went to the place where Whaley was calling on the woman and watched through the window, seeing her sit on Whaley's lap. They waited in front of the place until nearly four o'clock in the morning waiting for him to come out, but when he did start from the door he saw them and he rushed back, locking the door after him, they said.

The VETERAN MOTORIST gives a few rules of the road

"On approaching an intersecting highway, corner or curve, where his view is obstructed, the driver of a motor-vehicle shall sound his horn and slow up enough to enable him to stop readily if necessary."
(The Veteran Motorist)

ONE afternoon last summer, I was looking out of a store window on the Post Road. A heavily loaded truck happened to be coming along. Maybe a hundred and fifty yards or so up a side street, a low-hung touring car pulled out of a yard and the driver hit it up for the Post Road as though he had to make a train in thirty seconds. Matter of fact, he was just taking 'the sweetest, dearest, etc.' out for an afternoon spin.

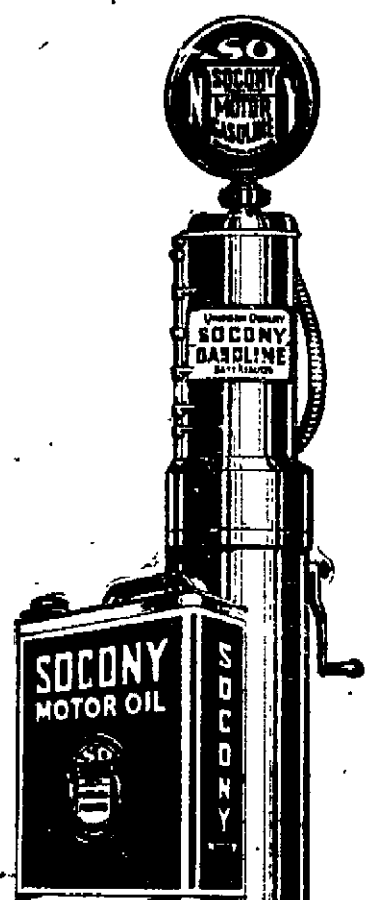

"The truck and sport car got to the corner at the same time. No horns, no slowing up. Then a last minute struggle to avoid colliding. I think one of them must have had a horse-shoe under his seat, for it was just about as close as I'd ever seen, or want to. As it was, one of the steering knuckles on the car was snapped in the shuffle.

"Not a reason under the sun for it, just plain carelessness. And that's what causes three-fourths of all motoring accidents today. Take it from me, it pays to stick to the rules of the road nowadays—all of them—all the time."

Leaky Gas Connections

Gasoline cannot only drive a car at terrific speed—it can reduce it to a mass of molten metal. A leaky connection—a short circuit or hot engine—the car is enveloped by fire—the gas tank explodes. It will pay you to repair a gas leak at once.

There are other common causes of fire, some of which cannot be easily detected. Even a minor blaze in your car or garage means an outlay of cash for repairs. It is wise to insure your car against such loss.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure and ask for "Mulsified" coconut oil shampoo.

Convict Sent Home Until Jail Has a Vacant Cell

There was no room in the county jail at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for him, so Will Skinner, who was given a jail sentence after pleading guilty to a charge of violating the prohibition laws, was sent home to wait until a prisoner's term expires.

CONSCIENCE FLOGGED; SEEKS JAIL FOR PEACE

Man Confessing, Pay Roll Juggling Demands Admission to Tombs, New York.

New York.—It was a surprised gatekeeper that peered through the iron bars of the Tombs prison recently when a big, clean-looking man knocked peremptorily for admittance.

"G'wan away," said the gatekeeper, "this is a prison; you can't get in here."

"But I want to give myself up, I tell you," pleaded the man. "I'm George Smith and I've stolen money."

"Nothin' doin'," said the gatekeeper flatly, and turned to go away.

Then Smith asked to be taken to a detective, so he could ease his conscience, which had tortured him since he began padding the pay roll of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, stealing, he said, between $300 and $400.

"Well," hesitated the gatekeeper, "if you're really telling the truth about stealin' some jack, I'll let you in."

The gate opened to let Smith in. He's still in and he can't get out. To a detective he said he lived at 55 East One Hundred and Twenty-second street. He worked, he said, talking rapidly, in the shops at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and Third avenue. He earned $36 a week, taking care of the overtime pay rolls. About six months ago a man showed him how to pad the pay roll, and after holding out some time, he said he went into the scheme, splitting the profits with others.

"But the minute I got the first dollar I began worrying," said Smith. "It sounds funny, but I couldn't eat for thinking about that money and then I got so I couldn't sleep. I decided to quit the scheme and keep the pay roll on the square, but they wouldn't let me. They said they'd give me away and be witnesses. For three days I haven't slept or eaten."

When Superintendent Smith of the shop made a formal charge of grand larceny George Smith sighed in relief and said:

"Thank God, I've got that off my mind. For the first time since I got into this thing I feel like a white man. Like life is worth living."

He was held in $1,000 bail in Harlem court.

TWO LOSE LIVES FOR KITTEN

Boys Climb Railroad Trestle to Rescue Pet and Are Run Down by Train.

New York.—Climbing on a railroad trestle to rescue a kitten, two boys were unable to escape when the Buffalo express of the Lackawanna railroad ran them down at Clifton, N. J., and were killed.

Walter Van Beveren, nine, Clifton, held the headless body of the kitten clutched in his hand when his body was found. The other boy killed was Fred Vost, eight, of Passaic, N. J.

The east-bound Buffalo express, traveling at forty miles an hour, had just rounded the curve to approach the trestle when the engineer, Frank Frankhaker of Stanton, Pa., saw the boys 500 feet ahead in the middle of the bridge. The whistle screamed a warning and the engineer shut off steam and set the brakes in a vain effort to stop the train.

Balloon Blast Kills Child. Baltimore, Md.—The explosion of a toy balloon killed three-year-old Bernard Silverman.

The child was strangled to death by compressed air which gushed down its throat after the balloon broke. The toy was broken when the baby's mother slapped him on the mouth.

SUMMER PLANS FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS

Again the boys' department of the local "Y" is busy on plans for some good times for its members. The good times have already started, in fact. Last Saturday a group went on a hike to Binnewater Lake, where they enjoyed a swim and then ate their lunch, returning late in the afternoon.

This week a new event is on. A co-ed movie party is being planned for this Friday night. The party will go to the Auditorium, where Dustin Farnum will appear in "The Yosemite Trail." A special price has been arranged through the courtesy of the management, but the tickets must be secured at the "Y" boys' office, before Friday. After the show, refreshments will be served in the boys' rooms at a slight additional cost. The department is figuring on a big turnout, and a large section has been reserved for those coming in this party. The party is intended for members of the boys' department and their lady friends.

June 13 will be the first of the classes in the Early Riser's Club. This plan was tried out last summer and attracted quite a few of the boys and Mr. Hall is hoping that all those who were members last year will come around again to make this year's club a success. The club meets at 6 o'clock in the morning. A swim before breakfast and Bible class after. The members eat their breakfast together at the "Y," the cost being split between those attending. The meeting breaks up in plenty of time for those attending to make school on time.

The first overnight hike will be held on the night of June 15. The trip will probably be to the First Binnewater Lake. All those who are planning on going on these hikes are urged to learn to swim now if they do not know how already, in order that they might enjoy all the pleasures afforded by such an event.

Plans are in force to start an evening camp for the employed boys, having the place somewhere about four miles outside the city. The plan is to have the employed boys go out there after work, eat their supper together and enjoy camping out for the evening together, sleep in good bunks that will be supplied by the department, and have an early breakfast before returning to work. Whether or not this plan is carried out all depends upon the interest which the employed members of the department show in the project. All interested in the project should see either Mr. Miller or Mr. Hall about it so they can go ahead with their arrangements.

A camp for grammar school boys is also being planned, where they can have gymnastic classes out of doors, enjoy good swimming in a real lake, and have the fun of cooking their own dinners. The boys should see Mr. Hall about this if they want it to go through.

The baseball league is coming along nicely. The Tigers beat the Cardinals 10-8, and the Indians the Yankees 16-12 in the first games. The Giants-Tigers game which was to have been played Monday afternoon was postponed until Friday on account of weather conditions. The Cardinals-Yankees game which was scheduled for Wednesday will be played off Thursday at 4 o'clock on the Athletic Field.

TENNIS TEAM IS BEATEN BY N. Y. M. A.

MacFadden and Stelle beaten in Doubles For First Time in Three Years.

The Kingston High School tennis team sailed forth last Saturday for their fourth match, and they called second in their match with New York Military Academy dropping the match 3-2. The match was played on the Cornwall courts. The Kingston men lost both doubles, which, up to this time, was their strong point. The two points of the locale were made by MacFadden's and Stelle's victories in the singles.

Stelle played his second left-handed in three matches. Singer, and took the win easily from the N. Y. M. A. man, 7-5, 6-3.

Marine lost to Sellers, 6-2, 7-5. Marine played well, but the Cornwall man proved to have the edge on the Kingston player.

MacFadden had his first set against Pouch, all but one point, then lost it, 7-9. However, Mac came back and took the next two easily, 6-3, 6-4. The Kingston captain appeared a bit stale and more erratic than is his custom. His usual good network figured largely in his victory. Pouch played a steady game, but lost to the better player and closer fighter.

Herzog and Clayton lost to Sellers and Kadelburgh by score 6-3, 6-2. The Kingston men showed some good team work, but they were out-classed.

MacFadden and Stelle lost their doubles to Pouch and Davis in a hotly contested match. This is the first time in three years that these two Kingston players have met defeat working together. The scores stood 7-5, 2-6, 6-3 in favor of the N. Y. M. A. team. For the first time in their career together, the Kingston boys seemed unable to find themselves or play resembling their usual good grade of tennis.

NO NINTH WARD POLLING PLACE

Alderman Macholdt reported at the council meeting Tuesday that it had been impossible to find a suitable polling place in the Ninth ward. The former polling place on Andrew street had been sold, and the new owner was using the building and had no room for the polling place. He introduced a resolution that the matter be taken up with the education board and the trustees of the Kingston City Library to see which building could be used for that purpose. City Clerk Doremus was instructed to take the matter up at once.

ALDERMEN WANT STREETS OILED

Introduce a Number of Resolutions Calling for the Oiling—West Shore Promises Less Annoyance Near W. S. Crossing.
That the common council is in favor of having the city's streets oiled again this season was shown at the regular monthly session Tuesday evening when several resolutions calling for the oiling of the streets in the various wards as soon as possible were introduced. All of the resolutions were referred to the board of public works.

The resolutions follow:
Alderman Keating—That streets in Fifth ward be oiled.
Alderman Everett—That Lindenman avenue and Delta Place be oiled.
Alderman Ryan—That South Clinton avenue be oiled.
Alderman Macholdt—That Hoffman, O'Reilly, Andrew, Brewster, and Staples streets be oiled.
Alderman Buchholz—That Furnace street be oiled and holes filled in; that Van Buren street be oiled and holes filled in; that St. James street be oiled and holes filled in; that Van Deusen street be oiled and holes filled in; that Greenkill avenue be oiled and holes filled in; that holes in Cedar street be filled in; that holes in Henry street be filled in.

Alderman Joy—That Ann, Murray and Chambers streets be oiled.
Other Resolutions.
Alderman Joy—That Newkirk avenue be repaired; that St. Mary's street be repaired; that East Pierpont street be topdressed and rolled.

Alderman Cashman—That petition of residents of Derrenbacher street to have sewer and water placed in that street between Foxhall avenue and Farrelly street be granted; that petition of property owners asking that Joseph W. Bailey of Abbey street relay curb along his property so that street could be repaired; that garbage be collected on Abbey street as it had not been done in three weeks; that large stone in road in front of 129 Grand street be removed; that holes in East Chester street and Clifton avenue be filled in.

Alderman Everett—That curb be straightened on Crown street near Kingston Hotel, as the street was narrow and congested by traffic.
Alderman Keating—That Newark Lime and Cement Company be notified to relay walk on Strand between railroad crossing and Tompkins street; that are light be placed at corner of Sycamore street and East Strand, and present incandescent light removed; that Catherine and East Union streets be topdressed and rolled.

Need Storm Water Sewer.
Alderman Kullmann in introducing a resolution that a storm water sewer be constructed at once in West Pierpont street to relieve flooding of cellars during heavy rain storms said that he had been obliged to disconnect the leaders on his house as the water backed into the cellar. He had received numerous complaints from neighbors regarding the situation. The resolution was forwarded to the board of public works with the request it meet immediate attention.

Police Protection.
Alderman Beichert—That police afford protection to children at School No. 6 during certain hours of the day. This is the same situation that requires a traffic policeman at St. Mary's School on Broadway. It was referred to the police board.

Granted Permission.
Joseph Lynch and Morris Ghys who have taken over the Proper bus line asked permission to stop at the uptown terminal in addition to the central terminal. The petition was granted.

The Mayors' Convention.
The aldermen adopted a resolution that Mayor Crane be authorized to attend the mayors' convention in Buffalo this month and take with him such city officials as he desired. This is the usual resolution introduced each year, and it was adopted.

Railroad Committee Reports.
The railroad committee submitted a report that it had met with representatives of the New York Central on May 25, and taken up several matters. The railroad officials had promised to eliminate parking of engines on Greenkill avenue; to have walks about the West Shore station seen to; to construct a crossing about 20 feet from the switch on Greenkill avenue, near Sterling street; that the matter of better lighting of the Broadway crossing gates would be given attention; and that the blocking of the West Shore Broadway crossing and other delays would be reduced to a minimum.

HIGHLAND JOYOUS OVER BRIDGE BILL

Highland held one its typical anniversary wide wake celebrations last Monday evening to express the pleasure of the citizens there because Governor Smith had signed the bill for a bridge across the Hudson at that point. The preliminary work of getting up the celebration was effectively and energetically done by Harcourt J. Pratt shortly after the news got abroad that the bill was signed.

The celebration began at 7:30 in the evening. From the village square a parade with the Citizens' Band at the fore, proceeded down Vineyard avenue to the home of Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail, turning there and going back to the center of town. There were 100 or more automobiles of various kinds in line by actual count. In addition there were plenty of other decorated cars swarming in town. The placards on them as well as the profusion of flags and other decorations evidenced wit, art and patriotism. Many the trucks were especially full of attractive suggestion.

The procession was little short of hilarious. Horns on the cars were nearly worn out in giving vent to the pleasure of the celebrators. The hose lads turned musical and kept accurate time on the truck going with the drum beats of the band. Festal racket abounded.

At the village square the band proceeded into the M. E. Church yard and took its position in front of the church steps. Some of the cars proceeded to the river and upon their return the doings at the church yard began.

J. W. Feeter presided, and after a most appropriate introductory speech introduced Prof. Bruce Bennett of New Paltz Normal School, as the chief speaker of the evening. Prof. Bennett struck the keynote in a most appropriate speech. Demand upon his time made it necessary for an early departure and he went in the car of Chairman Walter R. Seaman back to his duties at New Paltz after the address.

Mr. Feeter next called upon Councillor A. W. Lent who focussed the attention upon the achievement the signing of the bridge bill meant, and pointed to the lessons for village development to be drawn therefrom. Ernest L. Haight, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was called upon for a few remarks and urged the cooperation of effort which membership in this local organization can produce. J. W. Feeter concluded with a confirmatory address in regard to what had been said, and the band gave as its concluding number "The Star Spangled Banner."

Dismal Prospect.
A young couple with two young children once had both their mothers at their home. One day the mother and father went out, taking one child with them and leaving a little boy of three at home. He watched them through a window. As he turned from it he sighed and said, "Well, they're all gone and I have to stay home with a whole bunch of grandmas."—Chicago Tribune.

Mrs. Laura Hutchings & daughter Frances.
Little Frances D. Hutchings, the six-month-old daughter of Mrs. Laura Hutchings, of Berkeley, California, attractive waitress in a restaurant there, is the cause belli between Walter Mason, the "chef" of the little college town, and John Hutchings, husband of the woman. Each man claims that he is the father of the child. Hutchings has gone to court to fight for the infant.

Rabbi Joseph Rosenblatt, noted cantor, has sailed from New York to sing in London, Paris, Berlin and Carlsbad. A host of friends gathered at the pier to bid him bon voyage and cheered the inspiring "Eli, Eli," just before the vessel left. Rosenblatt is the noted cantor who has consistently rejected large offers to appear on the operatic stage.

Jesse W. Smith & Atty. Gen. Daugherty

Attorney General H. M. Daugherty has been named chief legatee in the will of Jesse W. Smith, chum of President Harding and Daugherty, and Washington "man of mystery," who shot himself in the attorney general's suite at a hotel in the capital. Relatives also share in the estate. The will, scribbled in pencil, was drawn two days before Smith committed suicide, an act ascribed to despondency because of continued ill health. Smith, once head of Ohio's Elks, was for years the political aide of Daugherty and lived with him in Washington.

A SUGGESTION FOR THE Y. W. C. A.

Build for Girls on Y. M. C. A. Land and Let Them Use Y. M. C. A. Physical Equipment, Says Friend.

Now that the long thought out and much discussed Y. W. C. A. has become a reality and the stamp of approval has been placed upon it by the best citizens of Kingston, both men and women, who have long realized its great need and who appreciate the advantages our girls will receive from such an institution if pushed to completion, the citizens of this city will never be satisfied until the girls have a complete Y. W. C. A. with the necessary equipment. Such a building and equipment seems almost prohibitive at present, but we have in this city, admirably located and splendidly equipped, a fine Y. M. C. A. building which can easily furnish everything needed by the girls without impairing its usefulness in any manner for the boys.

The Y. M. C. A. own available land on Pine Grove avenue for a building containing dormitories, reading rooms and all necessary rooms except for physical purposes. Without much expense an entrance to the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, pool and alleys could be made and they could be used by the boys and girls on alternate days, which would be entirely ample for both institutions and would not in any way curtail the boys' work.

Very little changes in the present Y. M. C. A. building would be necessary. Probably an outside entrance to the boiler room and wash rooms on the first floor, plenty of room for which is available. The present heating plant without doubt has ample capacity for heating the new building. The entire change could be easily worked out and by such an arrangement Kingston would have both a complete Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. which could be maintained at very little additional expense.

The plan as outlined above has been discussed by both men and women interested in the work and is thought to be practical and feasible and should be given consideration before the funds lately pledged have been used for temporary work. Kingston people are now enthusiastic over the Y. W. C. A. and will increase their support for permanent quarters but will be disappointed if only temporary work is accomplished.

Adolph Joffe

Baron Gato

A new triple alliance of Russia, Japan and Germany is regarded by sawed political observers as a possible outcome of a preliminary official conference to which the Japanese government will invite Commissioner Adolph Joffe, who was head of the Russian delegation to the Russian-Polish peace conference at Riga and who is foreign plenipotentiary of the Russian Soviet Government. Japanese leaders, it is said, are building politically for the future in their negotiations with Russia and Germany. The decision of the Japanese Cabinet to confer with Joffe is regarded as a victory for Baron Shimezu Gato, former mayor of Tokio, who resigned that office in order to urge an economic conference and agreement with the Soviet.

Shriners from all parts of the United States gathered at Washington for their annual convention. James S. McCandless, Imperial Potentate, was warmly greeted on his arrival in the capital. An oration also was accorded Conrad Dyckman of New York, who is expected to become the next Imperial Potentate.

LONDON GETS NEXT ADVERTISING CONVENTION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Atlantic City, N. J., June 6.—Delegates to the 1924 convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, went in final session today to elect a president. The fight centers between Lou E. Holland of Kansas City, Mo., present head of the Association, and Homer J. Buckley of Chicago.
The delegates last night, selected London for the 1925 convention. The Houston, Texas delegation withdrew in favor of the Britishers.

For Furniture Designers.
A recent exhibition of old American furniture contained a rocking chair of the Windsor type which had a drawer under its seat. Why not popularize this idea in chairs built today for the diminutive home whose just boast, "I am easy to take care of," sometimes calls forth the answering wail, "Yes, but where shall I put my things while I do it?"

HAVE HOMES UNDER GROUND

In One Part of France Whole Villages Have Established Themselves Beneath the Soil.

In his account of the "Retreat of the Ten Thousand" after the failure of Cyrus the Younger to capture the crown of Persia from his younger brother, Xenophon (400 B. C.) mentions a peculiar tribe living in the Armenian highlands who dwell under the ground with all their live stock. In some regions along the chalk cliffs of France one will find whole villages under ground, for the reason that the surface is valuable for vineyards. The owner digs a pit or quarry in the surface, forming a cellar, which is accessible from one side only. Then from the sides of the pit he cuts the rooms of his dwelling under the vineyard. The windows and door open into the pit, while the rock that is taken out is used for a fence.

In these chalk cliffs primitive man found shelter in caves or beneath overhanging ledges, where he also found shut for his tools. Later came the ancient Gauls to dwell in these caves, which offered homes for a large population.

Cruel Satire.

George Ade, that incorrigible bachelor satirist, said at a wedding breakfast at the Blackstone in Chicago: "The Greeks had a saying to the effect that there are only two happy days in marriage—the day the husband first clasps his bride to his bosom, and the day he finally lays her in the tomb."

Mr. Ade laughed.
"Palladium, the Greek poet," he went on, "elaborated this rather cleverly in a quatrain:
In marriage are two happy things allowed:
A wife in wedding garb and in a shroud.
Who then dares say that state can be achieved
When the last day's as happy as the first?"

Thought for the Day.
If some people can't run an organization, they will not be run by it.

Natural Curiosity.

A natural curiosity is the "Devil's Well" in Washington, 85 miles north of Spokane. This well is a cylindrical shaft, 40 feet in diameter, sunk by some natural agency in solid basalt rock on a mountain top. The water level varies according to atmospheric conditions, the average being about 80 feet below the mouth of the well. The swirling water with logs floating on its surface is said to inspire a feeling of awe as one stands at the brink and looks along the smooth, sheer walls into its blue depths.

Flowers and Love.

Ever dear to the lover have been the fancies woven around flowers and the charms they were held to exercise in the production of love. For instance, to discover the initials of a future lover's name you were only supposed to go and cut a bracken stem, and the initials would be found there. How long you would wait before wedding was ascertained by blowing the cheeks of the candidate—just as children today by the same means tell the truth.

The Horse's Speed Limit.

Before our agrarian population had taken so enthusiastically to the automobile, two farmers drove into town in an old spring wagon pulled by a very bony nag. The little burg had just been incorporated, and among the evidences of this was a brand new sign at the town line: "Speed Limit Ten Miles an Hour." Observing this, the driver began whipping up his steed vigorously.

"What's go' hurry?" demanded his companion in mild astonishment.
"See that sign?" returned the other. "But I dunno if I can make it or not."—Everybody's Magazine.

To Preserve Relics of Burns.

The farm of Ellistown, near Dumfries, where Burns wrote "Scott's Wae" and "Tam o' Shanter," and many other poems, has been given to the Scottish nation by the terms of the will of the recent owner, a gentleman of Edinburgh. The buildings as far as possible are to remain as they were in the time when they were occupied by Robert Burns.

Is a Reserve Fund Essential?

Yes, a reserve fund is essential not only for the present, but especially for the future.

Happy are the men, women, boys and girls who are building such a fund at the National Ulster County Bank.

NO TRACE FOUND OF MISSING MEN

Large Barge Load and Comes to Top but Coal Barge Which Was Rammed by Renascence of Grassy Point Not Found.

No trace has yet been found of the Ray of East Kingston, captain of the brick barge Fred P. or David Harris of Murray, who were drowned when the Renascence of the Hudson Navigation Company rammed the rear end of a tow in charge of the Cornell Line tug Perseverance which was passing Grassy Point on a way down the river Monday evening.

The brick barge dumped its load of coal to the surface after it was rammed by the steamer. No trace of the coal barge had been found up to noon today. The tug Perseverance Company has been working off Grassy Point since the accident, but the tug is now sweeping trying to locate the missing barge and also the bodies of the missing men.

Secret of Glassware.

It is probable that but few persons who admire the lustrousness of ancient glassware know that the prismatic hues displayed are a result of the decay of the glass. When disintegration occurs in the substance of the glass splits into exceedingly thin laminae, which, as the sunlight traverses them, give rise to a splendid display of colors. As in the instance of the leaves of a forest, these delicate glass plates signalize their approaching dissolution by becoming more beautiful.

Mostly Famous in History.

Near St. Martin's church, Canterbury, England, is the Ship Inn. According to the London Daily Telegraph, this establishment is to be closed and has been referred by the Canterbury licensing justices for compensation. The inn dates back to the time of Queen Elizabeth, and a lease dated 1567 was produced in court, showing that in those days the house was let by the corporation to an alderman at the nominal rent of 4d.

Are We Never to Be Safe?

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

William Reynolds died at his home on the South Side, Saugerties, early Monday morning. Deceased had been in ill health for some time. A wife, one daughter, Mrs. Victor Reynolds, two sons, Frank and Leonard, two sisters, Mrs. Robert Casey and Mrs. John Burke, and two brothers, John and Edward, survive him. Mr. Reynolds was in his 75th year.

St. Remy, June 5.—The funeral of Mrs. Ella Roosa was held at the St. Remy Church on Wednesday, May 30 at 2 p. m. The Rev. G. W. Gullick officiated. She had been a patient sufferer for the past year. She was a kind and devoted mother and will be sorely missed in the home. She leaves one son, Earl Roosa and one daughter, Mrs. Charles York, four grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Evelyn Schoonmaker of New Jersey.

Funeral services for Sylvan Ackerman who died at his home in Rosendale Saturday were held Monday afternoon from the late residence with interment in the family plot in the Rosendale Plains cemetery. Masonic funeral services were held at the home and at the grave by Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A. M. of which deceased was a member. The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were many and beautiful.

John Griffin, an old and respected resident of Shandaken, died on Thursday, May 31, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. Livingston. The funeral was held in the M. E. Church on Sunday. Mr. Griffin was the oldest resident in that community, being 93 years old. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. O. Gosso, Mrs. R. Livingston and Miss Josephine Griffin, all of Shandaken, and three sons, David of Shandaken, George of Arkville, and Eugene of Stamford.

The funeral of Peter Clark was held from the residence, 14 Ora Place this morning at 9:30 and at 10 o'clock from St. Joseph's church where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul. The celebrant was the Rev. Martin P. O'Garra of Saugerties, the deacon was the Rev. Thomas Larkin of St. Colman's Church and the sub-deacon was the Rev. Eugene Duggan of St. Joseph's Church. Seated within the sanctuary was the Very Rev. Joseph G. Cushman and the Rev. Henry Fitzgerald. At the conclusion of the Mass Miss Elizabeth Cusack sang very feelingly "Thy Will Be Done." The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The bearers were Joseph Hurley, Dennis Lehigh, Thomas Kelliher and Frank Disch. The Rev. Joseph Cushman and the Rev. Martin O'Garra accompanied the funeral cortege to St. Mary's Cemetery and conducted the committal services at the grave.

Amos Tanner, one of the oldest residents of the town of Rochester, died at his home near Accord, Thursday, May 26, in the 55th year of his age. The funeral was held from his residence Sunday, May 27, and the interment was at Whitfield cemetery. He was born at the old homestead September 26, 1837 and was the last surviving member of a family of nine children. He was united in marriage to Mary E. Markle who died about a year ago. They are survived by one son, J. Hartley Tanner of New Hamburg, N. Y., and one grandson Hartley R. Tanner who resided with him at the time of his death. The Tanner family is of English descent and came to Pennsylvania with William Penn. William Tanner came from the Welsh Tract, Pennsylvania to the Clove, Dutchess County about 1765. His will is on record. His son, Reuben Tanner was the grandfather of Amos Tanner, Jr. Amos Tanner Sr. and his wife Catherine Rynders moved from Dutchess County to Nanapanoch, Ulster County; to Wawarsing and to the present Tanner farm near Accord, N. Y. In 1837 the year in which Amos Tanner Jr. was born.

Church, of which she has long been a member.

DeWitt-Smith. Maynard DeWitt of Kerhonkson and Miss Sarah B. Smith of Catskill were united in marriage at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the parsonage of the Fair Street Reformed Church by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Sealey. They were attended by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Orville T. Smith of Catskill, the bride's brother, George C. Smith of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Markle of Kingston. They will reside at Kerhonkson.

Martha and John. "Sentiments, one dollar! Oh, look, John! How I'd like to have one of those framed mottoes to hang up on my desk. Here is one about birds, and back there is one about apple blossoms."

"Oh, come along, Martha. You don't need any more sentiment than you have already. It will be fearful pulling for the horses through the snow. And Ben Lawton is coming around to see me tonight about the south meadow."

"South meadow, John?" In her distress Martha forgot all about the sentiments and only looked at the day when she had met John in the south meadow. Her mind had turned back to that day in every marital perplexity as a starting point from which to try again a straight road.

Giving one hearty glance at the window, Martha Andrews followed after her husband through the snow. They had come to town to get provisions for the live stock. That is, John had. Martha had spent her day in buying warm clothing and toys for Jake's children. Jake was the hired man, too busy and too poor to think of presents. Martha had had the time of her life in the toy shops. On the way home she happened to speak of the toys.

"Glimmericks!" exclaimed John crossly. "You'd better have given the money to Jake instead of spending so much for trinkets."

"Why, John! Haven't you any sentiment at all?"

"Hub! Too much in this world needs practical common sense to waste much time on sentiment!"

Martha was angry, but by the time John had fed the stock, washed up and taken his place at the supper table he looked so altogether good in her eyes that she was soon in her customary good humor. She came in from the pantry, smiling, bearing in her hands a wonderfully decorated cake, all illuminated with pink candles.

"Your birthday, John. I made the cake myself. Just 30 candles. Blow hard and the candles left burning will show how many little ones you will have," and Martha laughed and blushed. She started to say something more, but stopped short at John's expression.

"Nonsense, Martha. That is children's nonsense," John exclaimed, bringing his empty plate down and extinguishing every last candle.

Martha gasped. The silent supper over, John went out to find Jake. Jake was coming through the gate with his two boys. Martha, watching through the window, saw her husband push the boys one side. Jake only smiled and, putting a loving hand on the shoulder of each lad, drew them to him.

"What does possess John? Evidently Jake understands, but I'm sure I do not," murmured Martha, turning to answer the door bell.

John came back into the house in time to meet Ben Lawton in the hall. He ushered the visitor into the library and closed the door.

"If John sells that south meadow to Ben Lawton I declare I'll leave him!" Martha wiped her wet hands upon her apron and tried to listen at the crack of the door.

"It's all very well to talk about common sense. I guess I've got as much as John has, but the south meadow is like home to me. I was trespassing in the south meadow the first time I ever saw John. I wore blackberry blossoms in my hair at my wedding. It was blackberry money that furnished the nursery."

Martha was overcome with feeling. For the nursery had been but an empty love nest. She knew by Ben Lawton's smile at her as he went out that the interview had been entirely satisfactory to him.

Next morning John started off to New York without any more display of sentiment than a hurried goodbye. She washed up her dishes and took her market basket and started for the village store for a few groceries.

"I guess yer ma is kinda peevish; she seems ter want yer to come back home," said old Mr. Perkins, who was postmaster as well as grocer, reading the postal slowly before turning it over to Martha. Martha read the card for herself, bought her groceries, and hastened home.

"Man cannot live by common sense alone. At least, I can't. Here is a good excuse for leaving home for awhile. Mr. Perkins will tell everyone in the village that mother is sick. Perhaps the Lord meant to give me this resting spell in which to solve my troubles."

She spent a feverish day in cleaning and cooking for John, then packed her valise, and about 9 that evening stole out into the night. Just as she neared the station she was amazed to see John in earnest conversation, and with Ben Lawton! They walked slowly down the road from which Martha had come, while she watched from the station bench. The last train pulled slowly out unnoticed.

"What does it mean? There is no use spending the night here. I might as well turn back home." Then she remembered the tell-tale bag.

"John mustn't see this," she reasoned. "I cannot stand any further trouble right away. Where has he been if not to New York?" Martha forgot one problem in another. She followed to the open door.

"Horror! The house will be full of flies," she murmured, taking up her accustomed duties as a matter of course, and closed the door.

"Such a sight!" she exclaimed, looking at the disordered living room. "What is the ink doing on my white linen table cover?" Martha felt for the first time in her married life suspicious and positive dislike for John.

She stood by her desk. There on top of the pile of toys and mittens for Jake's boys was a deed to the south meadow, made out to Martha. And beside that was a book of house plans. And upside down over her desk hung a little motto. "Sentiments, $1.00." It was marked. Martha took it down and read it, wondering: Life's song indeed would lose its mirth were there no babies to begin it. A delightful place this world would be were there no little people in it.

Martha looked at the deed again in shame. John had remembered as well as she. Then she gave one hysterical laugh as she saw John in the doorway. "Jealous of Jake's children!" she said, putting the motto back upon the wall.

Martha put out her arms and drew John to her. Pushing the valise under the couch with her foot, she whispered with her face buried in his coat. "But you might have left one little candle burning, John."

FAMED AS BRIDGE BUILDER. Scottish Boy Made His Way to High Position Solely by His Energy and Ability.

About 1850 a small boy was brought to a blacksmith shop in England and introduced to the blacksmith, says an exchange.

"I want him to learn the work," said his guardian. "Put him at it and see that he does what he's told to do, and does it well. Make him work."

"Aye, I'll make him work," the big blacksmith answered, gruffly, "or else I'll hammer him out like a piece of iron."

So the boy went to work in the little shop, pulled the bellows that blew the fire that made the black iron turn red and white and, little by little, learned the difficult knack of hammering and welding and shaping iron into things of use. Grimly, the blacksmith watched him and gruffly he directed the work, but he was kind-hearted for all his gruffness and soon learned to admire the lad. "Billy Arrol has pluck, Loe!" he said to his cronies when he spoke about the boy, and I know. He never tires out. There's a lad for you!"

From the little blacksmith shop the boy passed on into larger and more important places where he learned much more about iron. He became able to use machines and to do difficult work with iron, and to make complicated things. He gained little money, but he saved much that he earned and put it aside for the time when he should wish to start in business for himself, for he was determined not to remain another man's man. The time came, when he was twenty-nine years old, when he could invest his hard earned savings in a business of his own. He became a maker of boilers and an employer of workmen. Once again he saved his

ALL CHILDREN; CUTS OWN THROAT

Wounded Woman Uses Her Husband's Razor in Attack on Two Youngsters.

KILLED ONE BY ONE

New York.—For weeks Pompea Mastrelli, of 2319 Cumberling avenue, Bronx, has feared for her life. Hours at a time, he said, would sit motionless in her chair, waiting at the door without speaking. One afternoon, while he was at work, she killed her two young children by cutting their throats with a razor, then turned on the gas in the bathroom and cut her own throat. Physicians said there was little hope for life.

As the fumes of escaping gas began to reveal the tragedy, some time later, they finally permeated the apartment and the 16 families, being anxious, notified Giuseppe Mastrelli, the landlord, who lives in the house. He traced the source of the gas to the Mastrelli apartment, but found the door locked, went to the police and summoned Patrolman McGee, who broke down the door.

Breathed by Silver Tube. Mastrelli was still alive, although her jugular vein was severed. In the hospital her life has been prolonged by the insertion of a silver tube in her throat to facilitate her breathing. She is charged by the police with suicide.

Some two hours before the discovery of the tragedy, neighbors told the police, the two children, Castano, four years old, and Amelia, two years old, were seen in front of their home, eating cake which their mother had baked for them. Then they heard Mrs. Mastrelli call them into the apartment.

Summoned One by One. Police believe that a few moments afterward Mrs. Mastrelli summoned Castano to her in the kitchen and killed him with his father's razor. She then killed the little girl in the same manner. She then placed them side by side in the bed in her bedroom, returned to the kitchen, turned on the gas and cut her own throat. She was found lying on the floor there with three jets of the gas range opened. The razor was found lying beside her.

Her husband, Pompea, who is a bricklayer, returned from his work at 10 o'clock and told the police he believed his wife's act was the result of a deranged mind. He then told them of the moody spells recently. He declared, according to the police, that Mrs. Mastrelli's father had died in an insane asylum in Italy several months ago and that her sister had attempted suicide and was in a mental hospital.

Two Tramps Back 700 Miles. A female Terrier Shipped to St. Joseph, Mo., Returns to Old Home in Denver.

Denver, Col.—An Alredale terrier, shipped from here by its owner, Frank Farrow, three weeks ago to St. Joseph, Mo., limped back to the Farrow home, having walked the entire 700 miles from the Missouri city.

The owner of the dog in St. Joseph, to whom it was sold by Farrow, reported that it disappeared a week ago.

Farrow, who said the Alredale had become unmanageable, stated that he had paid its board at a local kennel for the rest of its life.

KIDD ORDERED TO PAY $15 WEEKLY

For Support of His Abandoned Children—Three Make Restitution for Unlawful Entry at Milton.

David M. Kidd, formerly of this city, was arraigned in county court Monday afternoon on a charge of having abandoned his four children in violation of section 459 of the penal law. It is alleged Kidd left his four children on June 24, 1919 and since then the authorities have been looking for him to answer to an indictment handed up by the grand jury. When arraigned in court Monday Kidd entered a plea of not guilty through his attorney Milton O. Auchmoody and bail was continued. District Attorney Traver asked that some definite action be taken toward the support of the four children. When Kidd was admitted to bail after his arrest he was told to give one half of his wages toward the support of the children. Since that time there had been no way to determine whether he was paying one half of his wages or not toward their support and Mr. Traver asked that some definite arrangement be made so as to provide for the children. He stated that he understood Kidd was receiving $5 a day and asked the court to direct that at least $15 a week be paid toward the support of his family pending trial.

Mr. Auchmoody stated that he did not know what wages were being received as his client was employed by the day and lost time.

To this Mr. Traver replied that if any one had to go short he thought it should be the defendant and he renewed his request to the court for a definite allowance. Judge Fowler directed the defendant to pay at least $15 a week toward the support of the children until the next term of court and failure to pay this will cause the bail bond to be forfeited and defendant arrested.

Charles Marano who entered a plea of guilty at the last term of county court to having sold liquor and who then pleaded poverty and asked that he be allowed time in which to pay his fine of $200 failed to put in an appearance at court Monday and Mr. Traver asked the court to issue a bench warrant for his arrest. Marano was fined $200 or 100 days in jail at the April term of court and was allowed until May 18 to raise the money. The money had not yet been paid when court convened.

James Pantusco, Leonard Freer, Ralph McManus and Everett Hyatt who pleaded guilty at the last term of county court to unlawful entry to a building at Milton and upon whom the imposition of sentence was suspended upon their promise to make restitution to the owner of the building, have since the last term of court made full restitution, each paying $75. The money was paid to the clerk in court Monday afternoon.

There were no other criminal matters taken up by the court.

TAGGING ALL THE BASES IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES

Stealing up from the surreptitious rear, the Yankees beat the White Sox, 7 to 6, with a three run rally in the tenth after the Sox had taken a two run lead in the first half of the inning.

Cole shot the Senators right out, 3 to 0, the hitting of Eddy contributing much to the Tigers' victory. The Reds gave three brave pitchers the rough dry treatment and won easily, 7 to 1. Rousey obliged with a homer with two on in the seventh.

Bumgarner hadn't nothing but the capture on his noble knee and the Browns won as they pleased from the Athletics, 10 to 2.

Grimm's gloved hand clutch on Ned's liner in the eighth resulted a double play unassisted and allowed the Pirates to carry the verdict over the Dodgers, 5 to 2. Mondown making to get by in spite of the Dodgers' thirteen hits. The victory gave the Pirates undisputed power over second place.

The Red Sox won a catch-as-catch-can from the Indians 10 to 6, the and Edwards being hit hard as often.

After walking the first three men to base, Sunday walked to the bench, and J. Sumner and J. Sumner's relief pitchers, carried the Giants to an 8 to 3 decision over the Cubs, aided by the Champey's hitting.
